Banff the Beautiful

ALSO known as the Sulphur City, altitude 4,500 feet, is the headquarters of the Rocky Mountains Park, that great Canadian National Playground which covers nearly 6,000 square miles, situated at the western extremity of Alberta.

This park embraces some of the world's grandest scenery, including high and varied peaks, glaciers, ice fields, canyons, gorges, rivers, waterfalls, lakes and valleys of unequalled beauty.

Banff is nestled in the lovely valley of the Bow, just above the junction of that river with the equally swift-flowing Spray, surrounded on all sides by giant mountains; to the north, Cascade reaches a height of 9,980 feet; east, Rundle, 9,732 feet, and south the Sulphur Range, 7,480, whence issue the health-giving hot medicinal springs.

The town of about 1,000 inhabitants is lighted by electricity, has excellent water and drainage systems and telephone service; Main Street, on which are several fine stores, amply supplying all the needs of visitors, is a splendid thoroughfare with cement sidewalks, while the residential streets have wooden sidewalks or good cinder paths. There is accommodation for several thousands of visitors in Banff's nine splendid hotels and numerous summer cottages, but the demand is growing so rapidly that every year much building is necessary.

The visitors' comfort and enjoyment is catered for in every direction; there are several well-equipped livery stables, enabling one to take advantage of the many beautiful rides and drives in which the vicinity abounds, or hire guides and ponies for camping trips in the untrammelled wilds, where, close to Nature, one may enjoy the beauty of the scenery and experience forgetfulness of all the world's cares as in no other way—the pack-trails are so good that the novice need have no fear in setting forth on a sturdy cayuse.

For those who love to be in or on the water there are swimming pools, launches, row boats and canoes. For the walker and climber there are miles of roads and trails, and dozens of peaks to scale. For the less venturesome there are amusements nearer home in the form of dances, picture shows, etc.

Banff enjoys an ideal climate both summer and winter; the heat is always tempered by the mountain air, and the nights are always cool. In winter there is much sunshine, little snow and very little cold wind, temperature seldom remains lower than 20 degrees below zero for more than two or three days.

Motorists may now enter Banff by a good road from Calgary, 85 miles, passing the Stony Indian Reservation at Morley, and proceed west for about 5 miles, road being under construction to the Windermere Valley, via Vermilion and Simpson Passes.

WHERE TO GO—— AND WHAT TO SEE

ALPINE CLUB HOUSE

On road to Hot Springs, about 2 miles from bridge; erected by Alpine Club of Canada in 1909 for use of members.

ANTHRACITE

Four miles east. A charming ride or drive round Tunnel Mountain, following the bend of the Bow river, passing many Hoodoos and down into an abandoned mining village, the original of Ralph Connor's "Blackrock," crossing the railway track and river the road joins the Bankhead road.

BOW FALLS

Situate about  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile from bridge, along river bank to the S. E., above the junction of Spray and Bow rivers, where the rapids are 80 feet wide.

BUFFALO PARK

About  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles north. Here are herds of buffalo, elk, moose, deer, antelope, goat, sheep, etc. Admission free. Carriages may enter, and the animals are best seen by riding or driving.

Race course is near where Indian races are held on Tuesday, July 23rd.

THE CAVE AND BASIN

One mile west from bridge on south side of river; good driving road and footpath, or can be reached by canoe during high water. The Cave is entered through a small building and short subterreanean passage which has been made for the convenience of visitors; when first used for bathing, the cave was entered by a ladder through the small opening at the top. Admission free under guidance of caretaker. The Basin is a natural oval pool of Sulphur water, fed from two sets of springs, one subterranean, the other from the sides and roof of the cave. Temperature of water about 90 degrees. Cooler water in the artificial swimming tank adjoining. Admission free. Use of pool with suit and towels, 25c. Open, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., week-days; 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Sundays.

C. P. R. HOTEL

Reached by footpath from the Falls or by road,  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile S. E. from bridge. Handsome structure accommodating about 600 guests—fine views of Bow and Spray Valleys. There are, splendid Roman Baths, Sulphur, Turkish and Russian, from 40c. each person.

FORTY MILE CREEK

North about 4 miles. Dam for water supply. Pretty canyon.

GOVERNMENT MUSEUM

N. end of bridge. Specimens of Fauna, Flora, Mineralogy, etc., and Indian curios. Also contains Government Offices, Public Reading and Writing Room and Telephone Exchange. Admission Free. Open 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., week-days only.

GOVERNMENT ZOO

Behind Museum and R. N. W. M. P. Barracks. Interesting collection of animals and birds indigenous to the North West. Visitors may ride or walk Sundays and week-days, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Admission Free.

HEALEY CREEK

Six miles west by trail from Sundance Canyon road.

HOODOOS

Three miles east. Curious geological formations—pillars of natural concrete, some standing 70 feet high.

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS

Altitude, 5,300 feet

Two and a-half miles south from bridge, reached by good driving road, first turning to the right after passing Brett Hospital, or road to C. P. R. Hotel and thence pony trail to the right after passing same. Large swimming pool, shower, plunge and private baths. Charge, 25c. Open, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. week-days; 2 to 5 p.m. Sundays.

The spring which may be seen issuing from the mountain side above the Government Bath House has valuable medicinal properties and has been used by many sufferers from rheumatism, etc., with wonderful results. There is another spring, known as the Kidney Spring, on the road just below the Bath House.

LAKE MINNEWANKA

Also called Devil's Lake, 8¼ miles N. E., good road passing Buffalo Park, skirting Cascade Mountain, through the model coal mining town of Bankhead, with its anthracite mines and briquette plant, following Cascade river to Devil's Canyon which is crossed by a rustic bridge. The visitor will here notice the recently-constructed dam of the Calgary Power Company, which has raised the water in the lake about 12 feet, and will form a reserve of power for the electric lighting of the city of Calgary. The lake is 16 miles long with a width of from one to two miles, in places of unfathomed depth, and of exceptional beauty in coloring.

Two excellent launches ply daily to the other end of the lake, where is a cluster of Hoodoos. At the head is the Gap, and to the north the Devil's Head, a peculiar shaped mountain top which is black the year round. Near also is the Ghost's River, a strange vale, where no stream flows, studded with curious Hoodoos, and supposed by the Indian to be the home of the spirits, whom they sought to placate with gifts. When they came to these wilds on the borderland of plain and mountain they knew the grim, gray Devil's Head was watching them, and lest the Mighty One be angry and spoil their hunting they made offerings of tobacco, pipes, tomahawks, etc. Relics of this kind were found as recently as fifty years ago on ledges round the Lake where ran a great Indian highway.

Large trout abound in the Lake, having been caught up to 40 lbs. in weight.

THE LOOP

A lovely ride or drive of about seven miles, crossing Spray Bridge past Golf Course and skirting the base of Mount Rundle to the banks of the Bow River; beautiful views of the Bow Falls are obtained on this drive.

MIDDLE SPRINGS

Two miles from bridge. Good road, turning to right from Hot Springs road. This spring is not yet utilised, it contains a large quantity of lithium. Many beautiful wild flowers round this spot.

MT. EDITH PASS

About 6 miles on road and trail past Vermilion Lakes.

OBSERVATORY, SULPHUR MT.

Reached by pony trail, continuing past Hot Springs, about 4 miles, ascending to an altitude of 7,484 feet where the splendid views of the Spray and Bow and Sundance Valleys, Lake Minnewanka and distant snow-capped peaks, well repay the climber for his labor. On the Summit is the Government Observatory, 14 feet square, tower 26 feet where meteorological instruments are installed, which register their report at the Museum.

RIVER TRIPS

About 100 yards west of bridge is situated a well equipped boat house, where launches, row-boats, canoes and fishing tackle can be hired at moderate charges. Launches run eight miles up the river several times daily. Excellent trout fishing may be had in Bow and Echo Rivers, Willow Creek and Vermilion Lakes. Signs mark the various waterways. A splendid longer trip is to take the train to Castle Mountain with canoe and run the rapids to Banff.

SANITARIUM HOTEL

Immediately south of Bow Bridge; from grounds may be had splendid views of river and Cascade Mountain.

SHEEP'S CAVE

On Sulphur Mountain, located about 1,000 feet above the road, just past Cave and Basin. No trail. The cave runs about 30 feet into the rock, and was probably once the outlet of a hot sulphur stream, as fine specimens of crystal formed from the sulphur water are to be found along the walls roof and floor. Both sheep and goat take refuge here in stormy weather.

· SPRAY RIVER

Pretty walk along banks, good trail turning to the right after crossing Spray Bridge.

SPRAY VALLEY

Beautiful ride or drive, continuing past C. P. R. Hotel to Spray Canyon and Goat Mountain, passing the Eau Claire lumber camps. Excellent fishing. First camp about 8 miles, second camp 17 miles.

STONY SQUAW

Pleasant scramble for views and wild flowers. Branch to right from Vermilion Lakes road. Summit 6,160 feet.

SUNDANCE CANYON

Three and a-half miles southwest. There is a good driving road to this beautiful spot, affording fine views of Mt. Edith across the river. A beautiful little canyon through which falls the creek of the same name. In olden days the plateau above was a favorite camping ground of the Indians, here they held their Sun dances and the young braves passed through the final ordeal and were admitted to the symbolic rites, which made them full blooded braves.

TUNNEL MOUNTAIN

The island knob of rock lying between Cascade and Rundle on the east of the Bow Falls, alt. 5,540 feet. Summit may be reached by pony trail, about 1½ miles, starting east from Mount Royal Hotel. A superb view is to be had from the southern front, which is a sheer precipice dropping almost 1,000 feet to the Valley of the Bow. Across the summit is a saddle or hollow in which the Masonic Order some years ago held their Grand Lodge. The mountain is partly circled by a good carriage road, starting east from the Imperial Bank, passing Bow Falls and ascending by corkscrews turns to an altitude of over 5,000 feet, affording panoramic views of the valleys which are unsurpassed, the return to the village is by road passing near rifle range, and then joining Bankhead road. Vehicles must only travel in the one direction on Tunnel Mountain road. There is another pretty ride or walk by taking trail to right of road after turning away from the Falls—in the valley are many lovely wild flowers.

VERMILION LAKES

One and a-half miles west, reached by water up Echo River and Willow Creek to first lake, Boulder Creek to second lake—in very high water third lake may be reached—delightful picnic trip. The lake shore may also be reached by new road crossing the railway track at depot. On mountain slopes down to these lakes may frequently be seen sheep and deer.

CAMPING TRIPS AND
:	:	:	CLIMBS	:	:	:

On all of the following trips it would be wise for the inexperienced to obtain the services of a guide.

MOUNT ASSINIBOINE

The matterhorn of America—11,860 feet, a sheer pyramid of almost vertical rock, one of the most difficult mountains to ascend. About 35 miles south by trail through unequalled scenery.
